Section: Recruitment of Diverse Candidates

Subject: Recruitment

EDUCATOR AS LEADER

RECRUITMENT OF DIVERSE CANDIDATES

The College of Education will be committed to cultivating an inclusive environment that supports diverse community building of individuals and groups within our faculty, staff, and student body. The unit, and by extension the University, embraces the values of a diverse learning community and has a long standing commitment to increasing the diversity of our candidates, staff and faculty.

Recruitment processes capable of producing diversity are critical to the College of Education as are general day-to-day practices that promote respect for differences among individuals—most notably differences in gender, ethnicity, race, sexual orientation, religious belief, and disability. Increasing diversity will target diverse candidates interested in being prepared for professional roles in schools and classrooms by diverse faculty.
